Murray City Council Approves Zoning Change On First Reading

An amendment to the city of Murray's zoning ordinance which will change the zoning of a tract of land directly behind Taylor Chevrolet on S. 12th Street from residential use to commercial use was approved on first reading by the Murray Common Council last night.

The ordinance must be approved on a subsequent reading before being enacted.

Wednesday night's vote on the issue was 6-4 in favor of the zoning change with one member abstaining and one member absent. Voting in favor of the rezoning were council members Marshall Jones, Dick George, W. R.

Furches, Billy Balentine, Ruby Hale and Dr. C. C. Lowry. Voting against the measure were council members Stephen Yarbrough, Howard Koenen, J. D. Outland and Dave Willis. Councilman J. H. Nix abstained from the voting due to a possible conflict of interest since he is employed at Dwaing Taylor Chevrolet. Council member Martha Sammons was absent from the meeting.

The rezoning proposal, which was approved by the Murray Planning Commission following a recent public hearing, has created considerable debate among council members, planning commission members and parties on both sides of the issue.

Howard Brandon, who owns property adjoining the Taylor property, has raised continued objections to the proposed rezoning and again last night urged the council to turn down the amendment.

Brandon charged that the proposal had been "mishandled from the planning commission standpoint from the very start" and that the boundaries of the present zoning lines had not been officially established.

Brandon told the council that at the public hearing held by the planning commission, one member of the commission said, "We're tired of fooling with this, let's dump it into the lap of the city council."

Earlier in last night's meeting, Councilman Yarbrough had urged his fellow members to reject the proposal because, in his opinion, the area in question does not meet the qualifications for rezoning as specified in the zoning ordinance.

(According to the city's zoning ordinance the Planning Commission and the City Council must find that "...the original zoning classification given to the property was inappropriate or improper" or that "there have been major changes of an economic, physical, or social nature within the area involved which were not anticipated in the community's comprehensive plan and which have substantially altered the basic character of the area.")

Yarbrough said he did not feel that the rezoning meets those specifications because, in his opinion, there has been no major changes in the business zones in the area, only expansions of existing commercial establishments.

Councilman Koenen agreed with Yarbrough and told the rest of the council the matter could be sent back to the planning commission "on that basis."

Brandon indicated the possibility that he might take legal action in the matter if the city gives final approval to the rezoning, saying: "There are all kinds of ramifications for possible litigation on this matter."

Attorney Harold Hurt, representing Taylor and Taylor, Inc., owners of the property, was also given an opportunity to address the council prior to last night's vote but declined, saying "it's all old ground we've been over before (in previous meetings before the planning commission and the council)... we're going to rest where we are."

Murray Police Looking For Assault Suspect

Murray Police today are looking for a suspect in connection with an assault, apparent attempted rape and sodomy against two Murray women at a Main Street residence early today.

A police spokesman said a man confronted the women at their Murray residence about 2:30 a.m.-3 a.m. today, left one beaten about the head and attempted to rape the other.

The woman beaten in the incident is in Murray-Calloway County Hospital with bruises about the face and head, a hospital spokesman said. That woman was discovered lying on the ground outside the residence.

The police spokesman said the assailant apparently confronted the woman later beaten in the incident downstairs at the residence. After beating her, he proceeded upstairs where he found the other woman, police theorize. Police said the woman told them the assailant tried to rape her, forced her to commit sodomy and choked her with a cloth. She was not beaten.

Police said after the assailant fled the residence, the woman who was upstairs went to a neighbor's house. The neighbor alerted authorities, the spokesman said.

The police spokesman said both women are thought to have occupied the same apartment in the house.

Police have a partial description of the assailant — white male with blond hair parted in the middle — the police spokesman said.

Council Moves On Sewage Plan

Several items connected with a facilities survey of the City of Murray's sewage treatment plant were approved by the Murray Common Council in a meeting held Wednesday night.

The survey, which is to be delivered to the federal Environmental Protection Agency office in Atlanta by Mayor Melvin B. Henley and Water System superintendent Tommy Marshall Friday, proposed two alternatives to upgrading the city's treatment plant to meet EPA regulations.

One of the alternatives calls for the construction of addition to the present plant at a cost of $5.7 million. The second alternative involves the construction of a separate, new plant at a cost of $7.4 million. If the study is approved by EPA, both alternatives would qualify for 75 percent federal funding.

Mayor Henley, several members of the council, and the board of directors of the Murray Chamber of Commerce have all indicated support for the second alternative — building a new plant.

In connection with the sewer plant study, the council approved the hiring of the firm of G. Reynolds Watkins of Lexington, Ky., as the engineering firm to do the "phase two" design work on the proposed expansion. Chester Engineers, whose home office is in Pennsylvania, has handled practically all of the city water system's engineering work for the past several years.

Prior to the selection of the new firm, it was explained to the council that the public works committee had screened eight engineering firms that were interested in the job. The eight firms were narrowed down to four firms and each of those firms were rated by the committee members prior to the unanimous committee recommendation for G. Reynolds Watkins.

In related action, the council: — Authorized the city attorney to sign the site certification that is being forwarded to EPA; — Authorized the mayor to sign an agreement on behalf of the city that stipulates the city will pay all non-federal cost of implementing the 203 facilities plan. Henley said that primarily, the only item involved would be the acquisition of the site. Practically everything else, he said, will be fundable under the 75 percent grant; — Authorized the mayor to sign on behalf of the city a commitment that the city will implement an "industrial cost recovery program" in connection with the facilities plan. The mayor explained that, in effect, this means that industrial customers of the sewage treatment plant would be charged at a rate equal to the actual cost of treatment.

In other business at last night's meeting, the council:

— Enacted ordinances establishing fire limits in business, hospital and university zones in the city and adopting the 1977 edition of the national Standards of Safety (building code) for use in the city;

— Authorized the mayor and budget committee chairman to approve the bills payable for September since the council does not have another meeting scheduled prior to the bills coming due.

State Board Okays Competency Manual Amid Words Of Caution

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A detailed manual for competency testing in Kentucky school rooms has been approved by the state Board for Elementary and Secondary Education amid some cautionary comments.

The legislative-mandated program to test basic skills in the third, fifth, seventh and 10th grades starts next year and will affect 224,000 pupils at the outset.

The Rev. Bob Brown of Lexington, a state school board member, told state Education Department officials Wednesday that he is not sure he shares their optimism about cooperation from Kentucky's 181 local districts.

"A lot of educators think this is a device for accountability and a lot of people are going to get clobbered," he said.

"...On the other hand, a lot of taxpayers think this is very important. Their feeling is that high school graduates can't do things."

And James Graham, the state superintendent of public instruction, used the occasion to voice again his doubts about the form of testing to be used.

He recalled his opposition to the legislation on the grounds that the program is too broad, that it should be delayed a year and that more money was needed before the testing program is started.

He called his reservations "a positive reluctance about the law" rather than negativism, and added "the public wants it."

"It's easy to write anything, but when it comes time to put it into effect...it isn't easy at all," Graham told the board, referring to the portion that provides for remedial studies.

"...I do not view the program as apple pie, motherhood or the panacea."

Mitchell Davis of Glasgow, whose advisory committee worked on the testing concept and plans, said the 1980 Legislature "is going to have to face up to the fact that a tremendous amount of money will be needed" when competency testing is in full operation.

Randy Kimbrough and Donald Van Fleet, two Education Department officials who helped draw up the program, again gave certain assurances and clarification — as they did Tuesday before a legislative subcommittee which also approved the plans.

"A great deal of trust and faith in local school districts" that they will carry out the goals, Mrs. Kimbrough said. But she cautioned that "we don't have the staff to watch 181 districts."

Van Fleet emphasized that testing in Kentucky will not be tied to high school graduation or class promotions and that no evaluation of teachers is involved.

He acknowledged the program, which begins next spring, has taken three years to formulate, and that if it does not work well, the cost and effort in change would be tremendous.

Civic Music Board Association Host Kick-Off Party Saturday

The Murray Civic Music Association Board of Directors will host their annual kick-off party for the workers on Sunday afternoon, September 10.

The theme of this year's party will be "Riverboat Days." The guest have been invited to the Ken Lake Dock at 5:30 p.m. (promptly) where they will board the Princess tour boat for a "Straw Hat Supper" and Cruise.

Committee members said the Princess provides a perfect setting for a riverboat theme in that it is a replica of the paddle wheel boats of days gone by. Gary Brockway will be playing "Dixieland" music on the banjo as everyone comes down the gang plank for boarding.

The planning committee mentions the flavor of the whole event — the cruise, the crowd, the music — and the food and the upcoming Murray Civic Music Association Season. Much attention has been given to the little details which will make Sunday afternoon fun, a spokesman said.

The food will be served from individual picnic baskets and will include chicken, and quiche which is being prepared by the Dakota Feed and Grain; french bread and butter, white grapes, cheese, nuts and raisins are being assembled through Owens and Company. For dessert Sammons apple squares will be served with Catalpa.

Dress will be optional for the cruise. Some people will recreate riverboat days with straw hats, longish dresses and some will have parasols. Others will be more conventional in afternoon dresses and pant suits. Mostly, men will be in coats and ties to enjoy the pleasant afternoon on the lake, the spokesman said.

LIONS CANDY DAY — Jack Rose, left, president of the Murray Lions Club, Codie Caldwell, center, project chairman, and George Lilly, first vice-president, discuss the CANDY DAY with members of the club. Lions clubs from across the state will participate in the annual Lions Candy Day on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 8 and 9. Caldwell said "Candy Day is a project of the Past District Governors to help support local sight programs and the Kentucky Lions Eye Foundation, was started in 1970 when $9,000 was raised. Last year, Caldwell said $21,450 was raised to support local and state sight conservation. On Friday and Saturday, club members will be at local business locations giving away candy and asking for donations for this project. The local club hopes to raise $2,411.65 for sight conservation.

Special 25th Anniversary Reception Held At Home

An open house honoring the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lexie B. Ray of Kingston, Tenn., formerly of Murray, was hosted by their daughters, Miss Karyn Ray and Miss Tish Ray, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clark, special friends of the family, on a recent Sunday afternoon.

The guests were greeted in the foyer of the Ray home on Dogwood Manor in Kingston Heights, by the hostesses who were beautifully attired in lovely dresses and had corsages of yellow baby roses.

Mrs. Ray wore a gown of peach soft polyester featuring a cape-like collar that fell to points in front, back, and at the sleeves. Completing her attire were silver shoes. She had a corsage of baby orchids trimmed in silver.

Mr. Ray wore a vested suit of blue checks with a boutonniere of white phalaenopsis.

The foyer was decorated with a bouquet of multi-colored silk flowers flanked by yellow tapers in tall crystal candlesticks on the credenza. Mrs. Arthur Rivers presided at the register.

Guests were served in the dining room from a table covered with an imported medeira cutwork cloth over gold that had belonged to Mrs. Ray's mother, the late Mrs. Otis Patton. Highlighting the table was a three tiered caked topped with the bride and groom statuette from the Rays' wedding cake 25 years ago. Punch and other refreshments were served.

On display in the living room was a mannequin with Mrs. Ray's wedding dress and veil which her mother made from a picture found in a bride's magazine. Also

JOGGING HELPS

Want to run away from your problems? According to Dr. John H. Greist, University of Wisconsin psychiatrist, in the Sept. 27th Family Circle, running or jogging may be an effective way to alleviate depression by taking your mind off your problems. Working with three test groups, the doctor found that those assigned to a regular jogging program showed as much mental improvement as those in short-term therapy and were more improved than those involved in long-term therapy.

Dear Abby

Carrying On At The Dentist's

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1978 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to disclose my source, but I know for a fact that a certain dental nurse is having an affair and is using her boss's dental office for her rendezvous.

I think she has a lot of nerve taking advantage of her boss's dental quarters in this way, and I'm sure he would have a fit if he knew about it. She has been working for him for quite some time and he trusts her.

Should I tell the dentist?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: When it comes to dentists, the usual advice is to "Open wide." In this case, I say, "Keep your mouth shut."

DEAR ABBY: May I comment on the letter from the wife who felt threatened by her husband's secretary when she and a girlfriend became self-appointed cheerleaders at the company's bowling games. (Very few wives attended, so the girls went to give the men moral support.)

That wife should smarten up and realize that if her husband's secretary is taking her place at the bowling alley, she may be cheering him on in other areas, too.

Perhaps the wife had been invited first, but refused because, "We can't afford a sitter" or "Bowling is so boring."

I finally figured out that my husband's secretary saw him as a handsome young executive who would handle every emergency, while I saw him as the guy who never remembered to carry out the garbage. Small wonder that when his ego needed pampering, he turned to her and they had an affair. When I learned about it, the shock opened my eyes, and I realized that the qualities that I loved in him when we were first married were still there, and that a baby-sitter was cheaper than a divorce. We saved our marriage by working out our problems together.

And I learned how important it was for me to attend the company bowling games.

I think that wife should take a good look at her marriage. Perhaps if the secretary's behavior makes her feel insecure, she has a reason to be. Sign me...

WISER NOW

DEAR WISER: The moral to that story is: "Don't permit a substitute to fill in too often, lest the substitute become a permanent replacement."

CONFIDENTIAL TO J.J.: Every liar is a coward. Putting it simply, most people lie because they don't have the courage to tell the truth.

Are your problems too heavy to handle alone? Let Abby help you. For a personal, unpublished reply, write: Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Blood Dialysis Relieves Some Cases Of Schizophrenia

Q: Mr. P. G. writes that he recalls my mentioning several months ago encouraging results in the treatment of severe schizophrenics with kidney dialysis machines. He wants to know if more such research is being done and if the effects look favorable.

A: Blood dialysis is continuing to be used, on a trial basis, in the management of severe schizophrenics.

The results continue to be favorable. This illness is chronic in nature, and the cases have to be followed over relatively long periods of time to determine the results.

More recently, a researcher, James Cade, M.D., chief of renal medicine at the University of Florida at Gainesville, reported favorable effects on schizophrenics treated by regular blood dialysis once or twice a week over the last six years. He says that 16 of the cases have improved to normal living.

LORI DIANE ELDRIDGE, daughter of Thomas and Carmaleta Eldridge of Juneau, Alaska, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Charlton and Mrs. Maureen George and the late Carl Eldridge, all of Murray, has been nominated and accepted for the 1977-78 "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

She received the award for her academic achievements. She attended Churchland High School in Portsmouth, Va., from 1975 to 1978, and will attend Juneau-Douglas High School in Juneau, Alaska, her senior year. In her first three years of high school, she has been on the honor roll, named to the National Honor society, and the Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica. She served on the annual staff played basketball in her sophomore year, marched on the drill team, and participated in the chorus concerts and musical productions. She is a member of the United Methodist Church and active in the United Methodist Youth Fellowship. Lori plans to further her education after high school in the field of medical technology.

According to Dr. Cade, the abnormal behavior of schizophrenics is brought about by an excess of beta endorphine which is kept nearer normal by the blood dialysis.

These results point to a chemical or organic basis for the abnormal behavior in schizophrenics. Hopefully, the findings will stimulate intensification of research on this common, chronic, mentalcrippler of millions of persons.

Differences Between Roquefort and Blue Cheese

Q: Mrs. D. C. asks whether Roquefort and blue cheese are the same.

A: Roquefort cheese, by French law, has to be prepared in part or totally from the milk of sheep. This cheese gets its name from its being ripened in the caves of Roquefort in southern France. Similar cheese is made elsewhere in France and is called blue (bleu) cheese.

Elsewhere in the world, including the United States, similar blue cheeses are often made from cow's milk.

Such cheeses are heavily salted, and they contain fatty acids from the milk preparation.

The mold, Penicillium Roqueforti, first grown on bread and allowed to age, is ground into a powder and sprinkled over the fresh cheese. As aging takes place, the mold, with its blue color, affects the flavor and appearance of the cheese.

The proteins and fats differ whether the cheese is made from sheep's or cow's milk. Because of the high salting, persons with heart disease who are on a low sodium diet should be careful about the quantity of such cheeses that is eaten.

Roquefort cheese may be more expensive than other varieties of blue cheese.

Claims For Aid Now Being Taken By The State

FRANKFORT, Ky. — On Sept. 5, local Department for Human Resources public assistance offices will begin accepting applications for aid under the new Crisis Oriented Program for Emergencies (COPE). COPE will offer financial aid to individuals or childless couples who are experiencing a severe crisis precipitated by financial need, necessity or destitution.

Human Resources Secretary Peter Conn describes the COPE program as "a means to help individuals bridge a crisis situation, returning them to control of their lives and circumstances."

Administered by the department's Bureau for Social Insurance, the program will provide benefit payments to eligible recipients for one 30-day period during 12 months' time. Direct payments to providers of services and, in some instances, cash vouchers will be issued to cover living necessities such as food, clothing, shelter, utilities, home repairs, home furnishings, appliances and transportation.

Unemployed recipients will be required to register for work unless they are elderly, incapacitated or students officially enrolled in an accredited school or recognized training program. Any individual claimed as a tax dependent by another party will be ineligible for benefits.

To be eligible for assistance under the COPE program, an individual's income cannot exceed $265 a month; a couple's income cannot exceed $350. A single person's liquid assets will be limited to $500 and a couple's to $750.

Persons who become eligible for retroactive payments from other benefit programs will be required to repay COPE funds allocated in emergency situations.

The Department for Human Resources will coordinate COPE with other assistance programs administered by local governments or private agencies to eliminate possible duplication in benefits, Conn noted.

The General Assembly's biennium allocation of $1.5 million is expected to serve about 3,800 Kentuckians presently ineligible for financial aid under other human resources programs.

Vaughn-Wilkinson Vows Read In Home Ceremony

Miss Beth E. Vaughn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Vaughn, became the bride of Nickie Lane Wilkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Wilkinson, in a summer afternoon wedding.

The Rev. Mike Gatto performed the double ring ceremony on the lawn of the bride's parents' home at 1616 Main Street, Murray.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Jeanne Francis, pianist, and Miss Lisa Francis, vocalist. Selections included "Evergreen," "The Lord's Prayer," "Wedding Song," and "If."

Bride's Dress
The bride, escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, was lovely in her wedding dress designed by herself and made by her mother. It was a white off the shoulder quiana floor length gown with which she wore pearl earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white baby's breath.

Miss Lori Vaughn was the maid of honor for her sister. Her dress was of the same design as the bride's and made of rose red quiana. She carried a long stem white rose.

Rickie Brannon was best man for Mr. Wilkinson. Ushers were Steve Winchester and Sammy Adams. The groom wore a white formal suit with a red rose boutonniere.

The mother of the bride chose to wear an off white floor length gown of white knit with a white lace floor length coat. The groom's mother wore a floor length gown of light green voile trimmed in off white lace. Both wore corsages of red roses.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Wade, and the groom's grandmothers, Mrs. Lora Wilkinson and Mrs. Pearl Miller, wore corsages of white roses.

Mrs. Tim Thurmond kept the guest register.

Mr. and Mrs. Nickie Lane Wilkinson

Reception
Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The table was overlaid with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of red silk roses flanked by burning red candles. The three tiered wedding cake was accented with red roses and white doves and was made for the bride by a friend, Mrs. Phil Liddle.

Those serving at the reception were Miss Jenny

Pool, Mrs. Jeff Smith, and Mrs. Rickie Glover.

The couple left later for a wedding trip to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. They are now residing in Murray.

Rehearsal Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Wilkinson, parents of the groom, entertained with a rehearsal dinner at the Colonial House Smorgasbord. At this time the bridal couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake
FOR FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1978

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) ♈
You may have moments of depression. Don't try to cover them up with an "act." Banish them completely by getting out and doing things which stimulate your mind.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21) ♉
Favorable stellar influences now promise increasing gains. But some minor situations may have to be ironed out before you can go ahead with long-range plans.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21) ♊
Don't let a prevalent spirit of restlessness and nervous energy lead you into erratic behavior. You could land in "hot water."

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23) ♋
Rumors now circulating could undermine your confidence, if you let them. Use that optimism and good judgment of yours and ignore them.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23) ♌
Morning hours may be somewhat on the dull side, but momentum picks up after noon; should lead to bright prospects — both business-wise and socially.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) ♍
Watch emotions carefully. Don't let sudden enthusiasms carry you to a point where they actually become obsessions.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) ♎
A fine day for artistic, family and social interests. In all things, capitalize on your general know-how and finesse to the hilt.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) ♏
Tendencies to avoid: indecisiveness and an inclination to accept faulty information without careful checking. Otherwise, day should go well.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) ♐
Some complexities indicated in work areas, but you can better straighten them out by working behind the scenes than otherwise. A hunch could work out here.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) ♑
The methods and tactics you usually employ may be ineffective now, but you can devise some clever variants — perhaps even more result-getting in the long run.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) ♒
Branch out to some extent. Realize your limitations, however, so you won't overreach your mark. Some complexities, otherwise.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) ♓
New opportunities for advancement indicated. Strike while the iron is hot. Don't let your occasional tendency to underestimate your abilities stand in your way.

YOU BORN TODAY have a strong leaning toward the intellectual; could succeed brilliantly in the field of literature or, if you can curb tendencies toward overexaggeration with those under your supervision, make an outstanding teacher. You have a strong drive and productivity is a "must" in your life code. You simply cannot be happy unless active. Extremely versatile, there are many fields from which you could choose a highly satisfying career. If you should take up law, you probably would wind up in politics or statesmanship. In the theater, you could shine as actor or producer or — even more brilliantly — as a drama critic. Music is another fine outlet for your talents. If business appeals, choose manufacturing, banking, transportation or promotion. Birthdate of: Lodovico Ariosto, Ital. poet; King Richard I (the "Lionhearted"), of England; Peter Sellers, film star.

Chinese Cups Stay Covered

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Whenever she was served tea in Red China, Madi Tate noticed that the cup was always covered with a lid. She assumed this was done to keep the beverage warm.

"Boy, was I wrong. The lid is protection against the dust. It blows down from Mongolia, covers everything, and causes respiratory problems, particularly among foreigners."

The observation was one of many that Mrs. Tate jotted down during a 16-day trip through the country where her grandfather had served as a Methodist Church bishop from 1921 to 1927.

"After reading about how far the Chinese have come in recent years, I was expecting everything to be top-notch. It wasn't," she said.

There are few comforts. "The hotels have bathrooms but they're sub-standard. Air conditioning is unknown as is ice. Our water had to be boiled and kept in thermos jugs."

The members of Mrs. Tate's tour group solved that problem by switching to something else when they were on the road. "We drank beer. It was hot but had a marvelous flavor," said Mrs. Tate, whose husband is president of Falls City Brewing Co. in Louisville.

Her day began at 5 a.m. and didn't end until 11 p.m., and she often found herself sampling food "unlike any you get at home. Prices were reasonable in the restaurants and in the stores."

But, she said, the duty on items taken out of China is still high, about 70 percent.

"I bought a few pieces of embroidery and some chops. Not pork chops," she added and then explained. "A chop is sorta like an official seal. In the old days, each family had its own symbol and instead of signing a letter or a bill of sale, they stamped their chop on it."

What impressed her most about China? The people.

"They are so anxious to please. They'll break their necks for you because they seem to love Americans. We're great objects of curiosity. As you approach, they begin to clap and smile."

Mrs. Tate also discovered that the Chinese are "scrupulously honest. There is no problem with drugs, no prostitution, no pornographic material for sale, and no crime. You can stroll along the streets at midnight and not have to worry about being mugged."

The toughest barrier she encountered was language. "English isn't spoken too freely. Go anywhere else in the world and you can always make out one way or another. Not in China. If you don't have a guide, you're stuck."

She got the impression that although people follow the teachings of Mao, "they care more about their country than their breed of politics. They're basically nationalistic."

Born in Vienna, where her father was head of the American Relief Administration, Mrs. Tate has traveled to many parts of the globe.

She said, however, the visit to China was "a visual and emotional experience not easily forgotten. They've done so much with so little."

"My grandfather wouldn't recognize the place."

Speculators Gambling On Gambling

NEW YORK (AP) — Speculators have been placing some heavy bets lately on the future of the legal gambling business in this country.

Their hopes that the gambling industry can win approval to spread out from Nevada and Atlantic City, N.J., and accelerate its already strong growth rate have inspired a much-publicized bull market for stocks with links to the business.

Wall Street investors, of course, are always busy trying to catch a ride on the wave of the future. This has led to a steady succession of stock-market fads — bowling, mobile homes, CB radios and many more — most of which eventually collapsed.

But the fact remains that a lot of money has been made, at least on paper, in the gambling stocks. According to figures by Barron's magazine, the aggregate market value of 12 gambling-related stocks increased by $2.26 billion in the first eight months of the year.

Caesars World shares gained more than 600 percent in price; Resorts International and Golden Nugget each rose better than fivefold; Playboy Enterprises and Bally Manufacturing tripled; and Ramada Inns, Del E. Webb Enterprises and Harrah's more than doubled.

Most of these stocks have been heavily traded, contributing to a record pace of activity for the year to date on the New York Stock Exchange. Such a booming market would appear to be a stockbroker's dream, since it helps generate extra commission dollars, which are still a basic source of revenues for the securities industry.

But many Wall Streeters profess wariness or downright concern over the periodic outbreaks of "gambling fever" that have hit the market. And in the past few days leading exchanges and brokers have limited or barred altogether any buying of the stocks on credit.

"With recent prices five or 10 times this year's low quotations, anyone who calls these things 'investments' probably thinks a lottery ticket is as sure a thing as a certificate of deposit," said William LeFevre, an analyst at Granger & Co., in a market commentary.

The gambling stocks also have acquired a reputation for depressing the rest of the market whenever they have one of their runups. Because they are speculative, brokers say, they scare some conservative money managers away from the market.

And even though the market is usually thought of as an amoral mechanism that concentrates on dollars and cents and leaves value judgments to others, many brokers evidently feel more comfortable putting their customers into steel or computers than into gambling.

In fact, moral, social and aesthetic questions, not just sheer economics, are closely involved in the industry's long-range prospects, just as they are in debates over whether gambling should come to Miami Beach, New York City or other possible sites.

Garrott's Galley

By M. C. Garrott

These Attitudes And Values Of 90 Years Need Preserving

Mrs. Hortense (Hortie) Ellis can look back over almost a century of life in Calloway County and the nearby area. Now 90 years of age, she lives, as she has for more than 40 years, with her daughter, Mrs. Stark (Leila) Erwin, at Mrs. Erwin's home at 1009 Story Avenue.

The other day I spent an hour with this beloved matriarch of the Ellis clan as she looked back across years spanning five wars, the arrival of the airplane, the automobile, radio, television, medical miracles and space travel.

She is one of eight children — six girls and two boys — born to Frank and Ella Clark Paschall on a farm near Puryear, Tenn. With her brothers and sisters, she shared the dawn-to-dusk labors of their 19th century farm, taught school, became a farm wife herself, raised four children, taught Sunday School for 42 years and became one of the most respected ladies in the county before she moved to Murray with the Erwins from the South Pleasant Grove community 23 years ago.

Mrs. Erwin is her only daughter. Her three sons are former Murray Mayor Holmes Ellis; Frank Ellis, former director of the Food for Peace program in Washington and now an agricultural consultant in Arlington, Va.; and Herman K. Ellis, who is in the popcorn processing business west of town.

Only she, a brother and a sister are left of the eight children in her family, and their combined ages total 276 years. Strung out, that would reach back 30 years before George Washington was born! The brother, Hafford Paschall, now 92 and the father of 12 children, 10 of whom are living, lives at Puryear.

The sister, Mrs. Betty Taylor, is 94 and lives in Camden, Tenn.

Both were in Murray July 16 to help their younger sister celebrate her 90th birthday. Seventy-five invited guests, most of them "huggin' and kissin'" Paschalls, came from as far as Connecticut, Texas and Atlanta. Ten states were represented at the big, happy, potluck dinner. "You've never seen so much food in your life," she chuckled. As one grandchild observed later, "Everybody there must have hugged and kissed each other 20 times!"

One of Mrs. Ellis' most vivid memories of her early years is the typhoid fever epidemic of 1902, during which a sister, Beulah, and a brother, Holmes, died. Two others in the family "came down with it" but survived.

"Old Dr. Paschall, bless his heart, came to the house and sat up all night for 18 straight nights with Beulah and Holmes," she said. "Can you imagine a doctor coming to your house today! The day after Beulah was buried, Dr. Paschall also came down with typhoid, but he recovered."

Funny World

A visitor to So. California was driving down the San Diego Freeway and passed the base of the Goodyear blimp. He noticed that it took several docking lines to keep the blimp in place. His host explained, "Actually, it's the other way around. If it wasn't for the blimp, all of Los Angeles would sink."

Bible Thought

In the multitude of my thoughts within me they comforted my soul. — Psalm 94:19.

Amid the changing scenes, the fears from afar, and dread of the unknown, we have the assurance and comfort of God, His patience, and His loving kindness.

"Beulah and Holmes were going to school in Bowling Green, and she almost had finished business college. They were at home between semesters when they got sick," she said.

Some 16 years later, another sister, who became Mrs. R. E. Odle and who lived in Camden, fell victim to another vicious epidemic — the flu epidemic of 1918. Her other sisters were Mrs. Grace Hicks of Bruceton, Tenn., and Mrs. Eva Nance of Paris, Tenn.

Mrs. Ellis and all of her sisters attended the old Huntingdon (Tenn.) Normal School and taught in one-room schools across west Tennessee. She laughs when she recalls the weekends when they would all come home, each with their most prized possession — a clock.

"Clocks were hard to come by in those days," she said. "You couldn't teach school without one. You had to have a clock to take up and dismiss school and to go from one lesson to the next. We would carry our clocks everywhere we went."

"When we all would be at home at the same time and all those clocks started going off at different times, it almost would run Mother up the wall. She'd spend half her time putting them under mattresses, in closets and anywhere she could so she wouldn't hear them."

In 1937, her husband, Leslie, who had become one of the most respected farmers, church and community leaders in their part of the county, died unexpectedly of a stroke. He had just been honored as one of Kentucky's three Master Farmers of that year.

They had been married for 27 years, having been married in October of 1910 in her parents' home. He also was farm-reared, growing up on one between Murray and Hazel, and their marriage climaxed a seven-year courtship.

He also had taught school — at Gunter's Flat — and had their home

Hugh Remains On Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter was not alone in seeking late August solitude far from the executive pressure cooker.

While the boss was vacationing in the West, a majority of senior Carter aides got away from Washington for long weekends or, in some cases, a week or more.

One who remained at his post was Hugh Carter Jr., the presidential cousin and chief economist.

"I had some things I wanted to do," said Hugh Carter, who told a reporter he planned to take a respite later in the year. When another presidential aide heard that Cousin Hugh, also known as "Cousin Cheap," had been here without a break, he snorted, "No wonder I couldn't find my paper clips when I got back."

Hugh Carter's penny-pinching ways are not universally popular among his colleagues.

Zbigniew Brzezinski, Carter's assistant for national security affairs, took off for a long weekend with his family despite his role in preparing for this week's Mideast summit at Camp David, Md.

Brzezinski and entourage went fishing in North Carolina. "Zbig" built when they married. It is still there near Baker's Crossroad and on the farm she still owns. For the past 23 years, the house has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rhodes.

Leila and Stark had been married only five months when Mr. Ellis died, so they moved into the family home and Stark began to farm the homestead, later buying the surrounding 400 acres. It was the center of his extensive farming operations until his death a little more than a year ago.

In the years that followed her husband's death, Mrs. Ellis saw her three sons go off to war in World War II and serve overseas at the same time. Holmes became a lieutenant colonel, Frank a first lieutenant, and Herman a staff sergeant, all in the Army.

Although raised a Presbyterian, Mrs. Ellis joined and became active in the South Pleasant Grove Methodist Church. There she taught the "Audie James Sunday School Class, a class of adult ladies, until she was 75 years old.

When Stark and Leila's two daughters — now Mrs. Frankie McNutt of Union City, Tenn., and Mrs. Mary Leslie Malhame of Demarest, N. J. — reached high school age, the family and Mrs. Ellis moved to Murray in 1955. "They think more of their grandmother than they do of me," Leila laughed, explaining how the girls had long written or called Mrs. Ellis regularly.

Her family has always been the center of Mrs. Ellis' life. "It has been a happy family," she said, "and we all love home and one another. I couldn't have asked for more." And paying a typical tribute to her late son-in-law, she said, "And I loved Stark just like my own son. He always was so good to me."

Our nation has become great and prosperous because of individuals and generations such as Mrs. Ellis, and our prayer today should be one of petition that her attitudes and values be stressed, lived and preserved.

Tigers To Face Lake County Friday

Murray High Lineup

The Murray High offensive line, strong against Reidland, could well decide the outcome of Friday's clash with Lake County, Tenn. The Falcons boast one of the biggest defensive lines the Tigers will face.

How does a football team prepare for its upcoming game against a team tucked away in some town called Tiptonville, Tenn., knowing nothing of the school except that it finished as runnerup in the Class A state championship in 1977?

Don't ask Murray High Coach John Hina. "We don't know much of anything about them," he says. "But we do know that they are a larger football team than us."

Basing a judgement on two players, that could be the understatement of the year. Lake County — Murray High's opponent — Coach Cliff Sturdivant has two BIG returnees in Edgar Currin and Terry Hopper. Currin is a 6-4 245-pound senior, while Hopper is a 6-2, 276-pound senior.

All that size from a high school that has only 310 students. Gosh, coach, isn't that unusual?

"No, not really," Sturdivant says. "For some reason, we've always had big kids. Some schools always have the small, quick players, but we've always had the bigger, slower ones."

Sturdivant's 1977 squad won two playoff games before falling to Alcoa 30-7 in the final. His 40-31 career mark there includes two 6-3 seasons, three 5-5s and a 3-7 mark.

He lost 11 seniors from last year's team, 11 he considers the skill positions. "We should be strong in our offensive and defensive lines (at least big enough), but we may be weak at the quarterback, running back and receiving positions."

But Sturdivant does admit he may have two talented runners in Ronald Hopkins, a 6-1, 175-pounder, and Monty Elam, a 5-10, 165-pounder. "They could be a surprise for us."

The Tigers have had an excellent week in practice, said Hina, and he feels a good game is in store for those who attend.

Getting there may be the hardest thing for fans. Probably the easiest way is to take Highway 94 West through Fulton and Hickman, before running into Tennessee Highway 78 to Tiptonville.

Other notables whom Sturdivant hopes will produce are Jerome Johnson, a 5-11, 205-pound tackle, and Timmy Bratton, a 5-10, 175-pound linebacker.

But the Falcon coach knows as little about Murray High as Hina does of Lake County. "I'm kind of wary of you AA Kentucky schools. We've played Fulton City twice (a Class A school) in the past two years and have had really close ball games," Sturdivant said.

Sturdivant admits that he will base his offense primarily on the ground, as most high schools do.

Murray High showed it sports a legitimate passing attack in the Tigers' 16-0 defeat of Reidland. Rich Rollins threw touchdown strikes of 11 and 20 yards.

Murray picked up 213 yards on the ground, with Bo Reed leading the way with 102 yards on 11 carries.

The success the Tiger offensive line has in holding the Falcon linemen's pass rush could well be a big factor.

"We had chance to play over 30 kids last week against Reidland," Hina said. "I hope that will be an advantage Friday."

Game time is slated for 7:30 p.m.

Saturday Is 'Indiana Night' During MSU-Evansville Clash

By M. C. GARROTT
Saturday evening, Sept. 9, will be "Southern Indiana Night" at Murray State University's Roy Stewart Stadium as the Racers host Evansville University in their second game of the season.

Of the five Indiana players on the Murray squad, two are from the Evansville area. Quarterback and senior Mike Dickens is a product of Bosse High School, and defensive tackle Jeff Gardner, a sophomore, is from Harrison High School.

The other three Indiana players playing for the Racers are: Defensive end Tony Decker, a freshman from Providence High School in Jeffersonville; wingback Keith Swearingen, a sophomore from New Albany High School; and Kris Robbins, a sophomore tight end from Indianapolis' Southport High School.

High school students from across Southern Indiana are being invited to the game as special guests of the university's School Relations director, Phil Bryan, and his staff, and their parents will be admitted to the stadium at half the admission price.

A reception, set for 6 p.m., has been planned for the high school Indiana players, their parents and friends in one of the stadium's classrooms. Special invitations also are being extended through Murray State alumni in Southern Indiana to school and public officials in the area to attend the game.

Two high school bands from the Evansville area — the Mt. Vernon High School band from Mt. Vernon and the Memorial High School band from Evansville, will share the pregame, halftime and post-game shows with the university's 146-member Marching Thoroughbreds.

One of the top five bands in the Evansville, the Wildcat Marching Band from Mt. Vernon, is directed by Cliff Merrick, who holds degrees from the University of Evansville and Indiana State. The assistant director for 11 years, Merrick is in his second year as the band director. His assistant is Eddie L. Gerlach.

Ahead of the 138-member band will be senior drum major Lisa Fredricking and her assistant, Lisa Blackburn, while the twirling captain is Karen Ungeth. The rifle captain is Jaina Webb, and Michelle Stevens and Tracy York are the flag corps co-captains.

Melvin Levin is superintendent of the Metro School District of Mt. Vernon, which the band will be representing, while Don Goerlitz is principal of Mt. Vernon High School.

Martina, Chris Evert Should Clash In Final

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK — They'll tell you the same cliches, but don't be fooled. After No. 1 seed Martina Navratilova and second-rated Chris Evert have played all those other matches "one match at a time," they expect to be facing each other across the net at the U.S. Open.

At stake will be the women's singles championship, a No. 1 ranking and as much pride as these two combative women can muster. You don't rise to the top in a very competitive sport without having a special feeling inside that says No. 1 is the only numeral worth having.

And there can only be one No. 1. "I'm not any more confident than before that I'm gonna get into the finals," said Navratilova, the Czech expatriate who wasn't pushed too hard Wednesday in downing longtime Eastern European opponent Virginia Ruzici of Romania 6-3, 6-2.

"I'm just taking one match at a time," the 21-year-old resident of Dallas said with barely a trace of an accent. "I'm just getting closer (to the finals), that's all."

Evert was tested a bit more in her match against 15-year-old phenom Tracy Austin of Rolling Hills, Calif., proving stronger and steadier, and prevailing 7-5, 6-1.

"In the second set I played very, very well," said the 23-year-old Floridian, who is bidding to become the first woman in more than 40 years to win this event four straight times. "I'm very pleased, especially with my serve. I'm getting better with every match."

The semifinal opponents of the top two seeds were to be decided today when 16-year-old Pam Shriver, the No. 14 seed from Lutherville, Md., met Leslie Hunt of Australia and No. 15 Kathy May of Beverly Hills, Calif., played fourth-ranked Wendy Turnbull of Australia.

Later today, No. 1 Bjorn Borg plays No. 8 Raul Ramirez of Mexico and No. 2 Jimmy Connors meets No. 6 Brian Gottfried in men's quarter-final action.

In the men's singles Wednesday, a pair of native New Yorkers waltzed into the semifinals. No. 5 seed Vitas Gerulaitis volleyed deftly in crushing jittery Johan Kriek of South Africa 6-2, 6-1, 6-2. No. 15 John McEnroe polished off giant-killer Butch Walts of Phoenix 6-1, 6-2, 7-6.

Kriek, who had a relatively easy draw into the quarter-finals, had his serve broken eight times in the match, doublefaulting 16 times.

A record night crowd for the Open, 15,794, showed up for the Gerulaitis-Kriek match, creating a record total for one day — 30,580.

The doubles action heated up Wednesday with the American duo of Marty Riessen and Sherwood Stewart ousting heavy favorites Frew McMillan and Bob Hewitt of South Africa 2-6, 6-2, 7-5. After match point, the volatile Hewitt threw a temper tantrum, pounding his racket three times against the top of the net.

Known as the Memorial Marching Tigers, the band placed sixth in Indiana last year among the Class B high school bands and was rated first in Indiana State University's high school marching and contest bands competition.

The drum major is senior Matt Brockman, and Terry Donohue, Becky Schmidt and Liz Rice make up the Tigerettes, a specialty performance group featured with various band numbers.

For additional information regarding any of the special promotions, contact Athletic Director Johnny Reagan at 762-6184, or write Director of Athletics, Murray State University.

They've closed Studio 54 for 10 days, so I've got nowhere to go, anyway," the cheery blond said of his favorite New York disco.

Gerulaitis won a semifinal berth with a victory Wednesday night over young Johan Kriek, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2. Borg, the top seed, was to play Mexico's Raul Ramirez today in a quarter-final match, and the Swede was heavily favored.

Gerulaitis, who is seeded fourth, obviously had little doubt that his next opponent would be anyone but Borg. He noted he had lost their last five meetings.

"But maybe this time, Lady Luck will be with me. She wasn't with me the last time I played him."

Gerulaitis isn't known as one of the most dedicated, hardworking players. He has spent much of the year looking for someone to provide some guidance. He seems to have found it in Fred Stolle, an Australian who won the U.S. title in 1966 and who is player-coach for the New York Apples of World Team Tennis.

Gerulaitis is the star men's singles player for the Apples.

"Fred goes out to all these places, saying he wants to make sure I'm not there. So he's the one staying out all night," Gerulaitis said.

Stolle says he's working to improve Gerulaitis' forehand, once a powerful weapon but now not as disciplined.

Pittsburg Wins Again; Dodgers Thump Giants

By the Associated Press

A plane ride last month really got the Pittsburgh Pirates off the ground and they haven't come down to earth yet.

"We were in Philadelphia and had just been humiliated and were 11 1/2 games behind," Pirate Manager Chuck Tanner recalls. "But on the plane after the trip I knew right then that we were going to start winning."

How did he know?

"We were healthy," says Tanner. "We had seven pitchers capable of starting and we took off from there."

The pitching, actually, has been a true part of the Pirates' recent success — which included Wednesday night's 4-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. That was the 11th straight triumph for the Pirates and their 23rd in 26 games.

The Philadelphia Phillies, on the other hand, have to be a little tight and a little serious watching the gallant Pittsburgh charge that has brought the Pirates to within a half-game of the National League East leadership.

National League

The Los Angeles Dodgers, meanwhile, stretched their lead to three games over San Francisco in the NL West with a 9-2 victory over the Giants. Elsewhere, the Phillies kept their slim edge in the East by trimming the Chicago Cubs 8-1; the Montreal Expos tripped the New York Mets 8-2 and the San Diego Padres turned back the Atlanta Braves 5-3.

Dodgers 9, Giants 2
Joe Ferguson hit a three-run homer and doubled twice to lead Los Angeles over San Francisco. Doug Rau and Rick Rhoden combined to scatter seven hits as Los Angeles swept the two-game series with San Francisco.

Phillies 8, Cubs 1
Left-hander Steve Carlton pitched a seven-hitter and Mike Schmidt drove in four runs with a double and a three-run homer to lead Philadelphia past Chicago.

Expos 8, Mets 2
Ross Grimsley scattered five hits for his 17th victory of the season and Larry Parrish drove in three runs to lead Montreal over New York in a game called by rain in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Padres 5, Braves 3
Jerry Turner broke a tie with a run-scoring single in the eighth inning, triggering San Diego over Atlanta. Pinch-hitter Oscar Gamble led off the Padres' eighth with a single and moved to second when Barry Evans' dribbler in front of the plate went for a hit. Turner then drilled a single to right, scoring Ozzie Smith, who was running for Gamble.

Jamboree Set For Junior Highs

The junior high football season will officially kick off with a football jamboree at Roy Stewart Stadium Friday at 7 p.m.

The three county schools will all see action. East Calloway will face Grove Elementary (Paris) at 7 p.m. in the first contest, followed by North vs Mayfield. Southwest vs Heath will conclude the schedule.

The event is being sponsored by the Calloway County Athletic Booster Club. Admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. The gate will open at 6:35 p.m.

Yaz, Tiant Lead Sox

By the Associated Press

Luis Tiant pitched a two-hitter and won; Dennis Martinez pitched a two-hitter and lost. The difference was Carl Yastrzemski — tired, battered, bruised. Carl Yastrzemski — who just happens to play for Tiant's team — the Boston Red Sox.

Despite recurring back problems that have forced him out of the lineup and despite torn ligaments in his right hand, the 39-year-old Yastrzemski cracked a two-run seventh-inning homer to back 37-year-old Tiant in a 2-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night.

American League

"The two young guys did it tonight — Tiant and Yastrzemski," mused Boston Manager Don Zimmer after the Red Sox had won for only the second time in seven starts. "We don't know what's going to happen from here on out, but this was a big one for us."

It was big because the Red Sox — four games in front of second-place New York in the American League's East Division — open a four-game series with the Yankees tonight at their Fenway Park home. "We've got to do it ourselves," said Zimmer.

In other AL games, the Yankees downed Detroit 8-2, Kansas City clipped Oakland 11-8 in 12 innings, Texas thrashed California 11-5 and 9-2, Milwaukee beat Toronto 7-0 and Chicago edged Minnesota 1-0.

Royals 11, A's 8
Kansas City rallied from a seven-run deficit and tied the game 8-8 in the ninth on a twoout triple by Frank White and a single by Steve Braun.

Harlan Parents Keep Children Out Of School During Strike

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Some Harlan County parents, apprehensive about the possibility of violence stemming from a United Mine Workers strike, say they will keep their children out of school until the strike is settled, a county school official says.

Widespread absenteeism was reported Wednesday in at least three elementary schools.

County School Superintendent Mildred Rowland estimated about 400 pupils were absent from the Evans, Shields and Holmes Mill schools.

Mary Evelyn Carter, director of pupil personnel, said she could not confirm the figure, but added she received "a round-about report" that just 16 of 130 pupils attended Holmes Mill. She said she received no reports from the other schools.

The absenteeism followed a Tuesday night meeting between Mrs. Rowland and 13 mothers of school children.

The mothers said they were concerned for their children's safety because of the strike against Jericol Mining Inc.'s Glenbrook operation.

The union has been on strike since last December. The company refused to sign the Bituminous Coal Operators Association's nationwide contract with the UMW, and talks aimed at reaching a separate accord broke off.

Mrs. Rowland said the women told her an armored vehicle — a modified coal truck — was being used to transport non-union miners. They said there had been gunfire in recent days, adding they feared for children in school buses.

Mrs. Rowland said she was assured by Joe Beasley, the school board's lawyer, and Jericol lawyer James Greene, that the children and buses were safe because of a temporary restraining order issued Monday by Harlan Circuit Judge Sid Douglass.

The order limited picketing and ordered all persons disarmed in the vicinity of the mine.

Kentucky State Police Capt. Marion Campbell, commander of the Harlan post, said Wednesday that he currently does not see any danger to children on their way to school.

There has been no repeat of earlier violence since the circuit court order was issued, Campbell said.

Prior to the order, tensions had led to violent confrontations, according to police officials.

The violence has included the burning of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. trestle leading to mine site, the burning of a miner's car and reports of numerous telephone threats to union and company men, Campbell said.

On two occasions, the officer said, there were reports that a convoy used by the company to transport non-union miners to work was fired on.

A gun battle broke out between the convoy guards and gunmen hidden on a hillside near the mine site in late August, Campbell said. At least 200 shots were fired, he said.

Mrs. Rowland said Douglass had told her he was trying to get the armored truck off the road.

Ford Thinks Senate Will OK Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wendell Ford, D-Ky., predicts the Senate will accept a natural gas compromise, but he won't predict by what margin.

The Carter administration is worried about passage of the bill, Ford said Wednesday. "The Senate ought to be worried, too, because passage of an energy bill is vitally important to the future of our country."

Ford appeared with four other senators Wednesday night on public television's MacNeil-Lehrer Report.

"The (energy) bill would not only relieve our dependence on foreign sources of energy, but would encourage new domestic production. It doesn't make sense to me that we're willing to pay more for energy overseas than we are at home," Ford said. Two other senators appearing on the panel, Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, and Clifford Hansen, R-Wyo., are opposed to the measure. The third senator, Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., is undecided.

New reserves of natural gas which could be discovered because of incentives in the bill could result in a savings of 365 million barrels of oil each year, Ford said.

"This would reduce by $5.4 billion our payments overseas. That's the trouble with the dollar today, and our deficit of payments is nothing more than what we're spending for the purchase of energy," he said.

Metzenbaum argued that the bill would cost consumers $2 billion by 1981. Ford agreed with the accuracy of the figure, but said $1.6 billion of it would be for new natural gas, "gas that we otherwise would never see."

Asked why he supports the compromise, Ford said, "I'm willing to compromise because it's in the best interests of the country and will at last give this nation a long overdue energy plan."

Ford would not say how many senators he thinks will support the bill, but said, "It has moved substantially in recent days."

Now An Outpost

HARBOR GRACE, Newfoundland (AP) — Harbor Grace at one time attracted many upper-crust Britons, boasted splendid architecture, and had the atmosphere of an aristocratic resort town.

However, with the death of shipping in the area, the town underwent a drastic change, and now it's an outpost community like dozens of others along the coast.

Poet Laureate Of Body Plant Retiring

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — The poet laureate of the Fischer Body plant is retiring at the end of the year and the question among the fender stampers and tool and die makers is who will write the commemorative poem.

"It's nothing. It's only a hobby," said 61-year-old Tommie Hyde of his hundreds of stanzas, written to fit any and all occasions over the years. While his subjects range from farm life, coal mines and baseball to installment buying, his co-workers have been memorialized over his 30 years of service in the tool and die shop.

He wrote of one fellow worker: "From the old school a working man, With honest heart and honest hand

With honest toil, he earned his pay Now he's earned a holiday."

His home as a youth in Laurel County, Ky., has also been immortalized. "My grandfather, Dot Hyde, came from North Carolina and swapped a rifle for 500 acres of land," he said. "He died there and my father has lived all his life there.

To me, that'll always be home. I take pride in it ... can't get it out of my head." Hyde reluctantly gave up working in coal mines during the Depression and came to Butler County, Ohio from Kentucky.

"I loaded and shot, dynamited and did all the different jobs around the mine, but I liked the coal mines. I liked the work,"

Hyde said.

One of his later poems took a Cincinnati sports writer to task for criticizing the University of Kentucky. He never sent it. He put it in a drawer.

"Why send it? I don't think it would make any difference," he laughed.

Hyde said retirement will likely mean a proliferation of poetry.

Somewhere else there is news of losses—grievous ones—and we have occasion to reflect on the sometimes inscrutable nature of life's patterns.

ROTC DISPLAY — This helicopter is an example of one of the pieces of military equipment that will be on display this Saturday as a part of Murray State University's Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) annual open house. The display is set at Stewart Stadium from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Area Residents May Inspect Combat Equipment Saturday

West Kentuckians will have an opportunity Saturday to inspect first-hand some of the armed forces' most sophisticated combat and combat-support equipment in use today.

On display from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. on the parking lot at Murray State University's Stewart Stadium will be helicopters, combat vehicles, weapons and support equipment as part of the university's Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) annual Open House.

Major Benigno F. Gonzales is the project officer and has coordinated the movement of the equipment to Murray from Fort Campbell, Fort Knox and the Kentucky National Guard. Among the displays will be one of the Army's massive CH-47 Chinook helicopters, which were used extensively in Vietnam in transporting large numbers of troops and heavy equipment. Coming from Fort Campbell, it carries a crew of four and is capable of lifting and transporting 33 combat ready men, or a 105-mm Howitzer along with 90 rounds of ammunition and the gun's six-man crew.

Also on display will be a Cobra helicopter gunship. It is armed with two rocket "pods" on each side, each with a capacity of 23 rockets, giving the aircraft the tremendous firepower of 92 rockets. Flown by a two-man crew, it also is armed with a 40-mm cannon in its nose.

Two smaller UH-1H (Huey) helicopters also will be on display. These are used generally for medical evacuation and utility use. It can carry six combat-ready men and is flown by a three-man crew.

On display will be a ground surveillance radar unit capable of, through electrical impulses, picking up moving images up to 300 meters. It is used mostly at night to pinpoint enemy troops, fire bases and positions.

The public is invited to visit the display and inspect the equipment during the five hours of the Open House.

Autopsies To Be Performed On Bodies Found In River

CHAVIES, Ky. (AP) — Autopsies were to be performed today on the bodies of a man and a woman found floating near the surface of the Kentucky River.

The bodies, bound together with barbed wire and weighted with an old plow, were spotted floating about three feet beneath the water's surface Wednesday by a train crew, which notified police.

A spokesman for the Perry County rescue squad, which recovered the bodies about 1 mile from the Chavies community, estimated they had been in the river for five to seven days.

State police Lt. Ray Brittain of the Hazard post indicated that authorities know the source of the barbed wire and plow.

"We feel like we know where they came from, yes," he said. The officer would not elaborate, adding that no arrests had been made.

The victims' identities were unknown, he said.
